Blackjack Tie

11 007

Game Objective:

In Blackjack Tie, your objective is to get the value of your hand closer to 21 than the dealer's hand. However if you exceed 21 you lose automatically (go bust) or Tie with the dealer.

Game Rules:

1The primary wager wins even money if a players hand is closer to 21 than the dealers. The primary wager wins according to casino house rules if the player has a natural blackjack (two cards consisting of a face card or 10 value card with an Ace).
2If the player made a bonus wager, and the dealers hand ties the players hand exactly, (examples; player 17 vs. dealer 17, player 21 vs. dealer 21, or player Blackjack vs. dealer Blackjack, the player wins the total of that bonus and pushes the primary wager.
3The player may make more than bonus wager per hand. EXAMPLE: The Player made two bonus wagers on 18 and 21 and the dealer tied the player on 18. The player would win 40 to 1 on the Tie 18 bonus wager and lose the bonus wager on the 21 bonus wager.
4Left side (LS) and Right side (RS) bonus wagers win ONLY if the player and dealer have a respective matching hand or exact total. EXAMPLE: if the dealer makes 17 and the player makes 18 with a bonus on LS then the player loses the LS wager. For LS and RS bets to win the Player MUST tie the Dealer's hand with one of the three hand totals applicable to that wager.
5The player may only wager a total of $4 max on the primary wager and each of the tie wagers.
6When splitting aces, only the 1st hand is used for the bonus wager and this is considered 21, and NOT BLACKJACK, in the event a ten value card is drawn. When the player makes 21 on the 1st hand and the Dealer makes 21 (NOT BLACKJACK) then the player wins the 21 straight up bet (If the player bet it) and would also win the RS bet if the player bet that.
7If the player bets Blackjack straight up or the RS and both the dealer and player have a blackjack, then the player wins the payoff according to the pay chart.
8When splitting any pair only the first hand split is used to determine the tie wager.
9When splitting any pair more than once, ALL bonus wagers are lost.
10Players have Blackjack ONLY when the player's first two cards consist of a ten value card plus an ace. 21 occurs with three cards or more, or when splitting aces and receiving a ten value card with the first ace only. 21 value hands do not tie with Blackjack hands, resulting in losing bonus wagers.
11When player has Blackjack and dealer does not, then ALL bonus bets are lost.

- Split only once
- No double after split
- Only double on 10 and 11
